

Exploring Our Local Community

BLUEPRINT

Dear Families,

We are creating a classroom informational book called Community Helpers in which children describe what job they might like to have when they are grown up. In school, we have talked about lots of different jobs such as crossing guard, doctor, and mail carrier. To support this work, please talk to your child about these and other jobs. You might ask some of the following questions to help generate ideas. Please jot down what your child says and send this information back to school. This will help them be prepared to share.

- What is a job you might like to have? Why?
- What sorts of things would you do if you had this job?
- Would you need any special tools or clothes to do your job?
- How does this job help take care of the others or the community?

Thank you for your support!
